

International and Regional Security

Graduate Certificate 12 Credit Hours

This program is offered by the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. It is available online and at the Athens campus, but it is not available at the St. Louis main campus.

For information on the general requirements for a certificate, see Certificate Program Policies and Procedures under the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

Program Description

This certificate program examines core topics in international and regional security. Students will be introduced to scholarly work on the sources of conflict, violence and security issues in the international arena, as well as literature on the resolution and mitigation of such conflicts. Students will apply theories and concepts of both interstate and intrastate conflict to important contemporary cases, and analyze the effectiveness of potential policy responses. This certificate program will prepare students for further graduate study in the fields of international relations, national security and international security, as well as related careers in the public and private sector. Where available, this certificate may be earned while completing the MA in international relations, MA in national security studies or as a stand-alone graduate certificate.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completing this certificate program, students will be able to:

- Identify and analyze the sources of international and regional political conflict.
- Identify, design and apply potential policy solutions designed to resolve or mitigate real-world conflicts.
- Apply major theories of international security to analyze real-world regional and international conflicts.
